She's a beautiful, sexy, funny woman who makes a living pampering rich guys and teaching them how to get the best out of their partners. Every woman wants to be the center of a man's attention. Veronica's success at it, however, is a product of her determination, education, and unshakable commitment to her work. At her shop, Sexy Times, she serves the women of St. George, Utah, as their ultimate sex counselor. Her charm, intelligence, and skill at diagnosis lead her clients to real satisfaction. But today is different. She isn't satisfied with her usual, sometimes overstimulated patients. She has been overwhelmed for days by the need to take care of a very demanding man who has come into her office. A young man whose problems are barely recognizable by the standards Veronica has used to deal with her own problems. "Dr. Vain? Can you come out of the office, please?" Michael Vega can't believe it when Veronica walks out of the office without even trying to appear surprised to see him. Michael stands up, stammering. "Err...sorry. Are you a patient, Dr. Vain?" "Do I need a patient's appointment to have an office visit?" She never has when she's needed to give sex advice before. "Yes, Dr. Vain. I just...I need your help. Can you...I mean, I have a real problem." 82157476af
